

Writing Situation: It is your first day of school on Mars. Things are certainly not like your school on Earth. You take a deep breath and enter the building. It is very cold...

Directions for Writing: Before you begin to write, think about life on Mars and what school may be like. Now, tell the reader of your paper all about your first day of school on Mars.