

Writing Situation: The rain has just let up and out comes a beautiful rainbow. To your surprise, the end of the rainbow is right in your backyard. You go out your back door and Directions for Writing: Before you begin to write, think about what you'll find at the end of the rainbow and what you're going to do now. Now tell about what happened at the end of the rainbow.